REPARATIONS AGREEMENT TO HELP BUSINESS

GERMANY PUTS NICE GIFT IN U. S. STOCKING

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

(Copyright 1929, by the Escanaba Press)

Washington, Dec. 26.—Christmas news 'round the world may have been scant this year so far as momentous happenings were concerned, but there was one event overshadowing all else in significance, namely, the ratification by the German people of the reparation plan which bears the name of Owen D. Young.

For several months experts worked in Paris and then governments debated details at the Hague when all of a sudden a monkey-wrench seemed to be thrown into the machinery of world readjustment because the nationalist party in Berlin insisted on a referendum. The Versailles treaty was never popular in Germany and an acknowledgement of reparations due has never been put specifically to a popular vote.

Obligation Recognized.

The fact that the opposition to ratifying the Young plan received only six million votes out of the necessary twenty-one million may be taken to mean that the German people not only recognized their obligation but that they are ready to do their share in rearranging the finances of the world through the Young plan which has been hailed as a means of rescuing Germany from permanent financial bondage.

The approval by the German people means also that when the reparations bonds are floated investors throughout the world will no longer have any doubt about the good faith of Germany or possible repudiation.

Plans for the flotation of an international bond issue have been held up not only until the outcome of the German referendum, but until the money markets of the world were more receptive to such a flotation. It has been apparent for some time that the reparation bonds would not find a ready market until cheaper money was available in the markets of the world. The stock market crash in America has had its effect in all parts of Europe as revealed in the declining rates for money in the principal European countries.

Stabilize Finances.

The ratification of the Young plan is expected to have an even

Seek Person Who Tortured Little Dog; Reward $1,000

St. Louis, Dec. 26 (AP)—Rewards for information leading to arrest of the person who sewed up the mouth of a small dog and released the animal to starve to death had mounted to more than $1,000 tonight, the humane society announced.

The dog, found behind a hospital, was killed by the humane society with a painless injection because of its weakened condition. The reward fund mounted hourly all day, amounts ranging from 50 cents to $100 being pledged by persons who telephoned the society's office.

Cruelty to animals under a law passed by the last legislature carried a penalty ranging from a fine of $50 or three months in jail to a three-year penitentiary sentence.

The dog's mouth was sewed shut with eight stitches of strong white cord. Robert F. Sellar, secretary of the humane society, expressed belief the deed was done by someone annoyed by the dog.

Spring Dries Up; Water for Moon Piped for Miles

Salt Lake City, Utah, Dec. 26 (AP)—Dry weather hereabouts is threatening the liquor supply. Federal prohibition agents who went out on a Christmas raid found a still that had obtained its water through a garden hose a mile and a half long. The spring that had been the original source of supply had dried up and a connection made with a pipe line.

To prove it the agents brought in the hose along with the still. The operators had abandoned it.

SOVIET TO AID U. S. IN SEARCH

Russian Who Flew to New York Leads Eielson Expedition

Washington, Dec. 26 (AP)—An airplane search throuh the frozen north for Carl Ben Eielson and Earl Borland, missing American aviators, was assured today in messages received from the Soviet government.

Although the United States does not recognize the Soviet, a cablegram was received by Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee from M. Litvinoff, acting foreign commissar at Moscow, which said an expedition would be sent out in a few days to search for the flyers.

Answer Appeal

Assurance of assistance also was transmitted to the interior department through Boris E. Skirvsky, Washington representative of the Soviet Union information bureau, who called on Secretary Wilbur. The interior secretary appealed to the Soviet government for assistance last Monday through Skirvsky.

The cablegram to Borah, who sent a direct request for help to Litvinoff on Monday, said the ex-

Chinese Maiden Puts H in Colic At Spelling Bee

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 26 (AP)—Emma Quong, 13 year old Chinese girl of Havana, Ill., spelled down all but one contestant in the Illinois state spelling bee here today.

She failed on the word "colic" by adding the letter "H" and including an "H" in the word "colicky."

Marie Dausch, 13, of Colonda was named champion and Emma Quong second.

Margaret Grady of Farmer City was third.

New York Central Runs Michigan Road

Detroit, Dec. 26 (AP)—The New York Central will take formal control of the operation and management of the Michigan Central railroad under a lease which will become effective in January.

This was announced tonight by Henry Shearer, general manager of the Michigan Central, who said that the change probably will not affect the present organization. New York Central owns approximately 95 per cent of the stock of the Michigan Central.

HOOVER DROPS PRECEDENT IN SEEING RUBIO

PRESIDENT-ELECT OF MEXICO IS HONORED

Washington, Dec. 26 (AP)—President Hoover ignored precedent today to honor Pascual Oritz Rubio, the president-elect of Mexico.

With Mrs. Hoover, he visited the next chief executive of the republic to the south and Senora De Oritz Rubio at the Mexican embassy. A call at the White House by the Mexican visitors had preceded.

Military Tribute

It was the first time in history that a president of the United States had left the White House so to honor a president-elect. The act was a formal acknowledgement of like courtesies extended to Mr. Hoover when he toured South America as a president-elect last year.

Senor Oritz Rubio and his suite arrived at noon by train from Baltimore, where he spent the last two weeks under medical treatment at Johns Hopkins hospital. Military honors ordinarily reserved for governmental heads were paid him at the Union station, on his four-mile drive through the city and at the Mexican embassy, where he will stay for four days with his wife and their three small children.

His call at the White House and Mr. Hoover's to the Mexican embassy followed. Mrs. Hoover subsequently entertained Senora De Oritz Rubio at tea in the executive mansion while the governing board of the Pan American Union, headed by Secretary Stimson, who had met the Mexican party at the train, entertained Senor Oritz Rubio at a reception in the Pan American Union building.

There the future president of Mexico told the ambassadors and ministers of the twenty Latin republics of America that Ambassador Manuel C. Tellez had been instructed to continue working in the interests of a program which will tend to solidify the ties that unite the countries of the American continent.

Senor Oritz Rubio said Mexico always had been in favor of a closer union among the countries of America and therefore sympathized with the Pan American movement. He expressed appreciation for the cordial welcome he had received.

Artist, Sculptor, Writer's Divorced Wife, Found Dead

Chicago, Dec. 26 (AP)—Mrs. Tennessee Mitchell Anderson, 53, divorced wife of Sherwood Anderson, the novelist, was found dead late today in her apartment. She had been dead for six or seven days, Coroner's physicians said. An autopsy will be performed because of traces of a hemhorage found on the body, the physicians said. Mrs. Anderson was an artist and sculptor.

Talk Boulder Dam Early In January

Washington, Dec. 26 (AP)—Secretary Wilbur announced today that representatives of the states of Arizona, California and Nevada will again confer on the problem of Boulder Dam, probably at Phoenix, Ariz., January 6.

Prisoner in Family Feud Riddled With Bullets Christmas Morning; Names Assailants Before He Dies

Jackson, Ky., Dec. 26 (AP)—Chester Fugate who was taken from the Breathitt county jail Christmas morning and shot and beaten, died late today after he had accused six men of being the leaders in the latest shedding of blood by members of the Fugate and Watkins families.

Five of the men, kinsman of Clay Watkins whom Fugate shot to death December 18, came in and surrendered and were held in $5,000 bond each shortly before the death of Fugate whose body showed thirteen bullet holes. Lee Watkins, of Hazard, the sixth man named by Fugate, sent word that he would surrender. The warrants charged malicious shooting and wounding and after Fugate's death G. C. Allen, Commonwealth's attorney, prepared to issue murder warrants.

Fugate who lay for five hours in a snow filled ditch before he was found, made his statement to the Commonwealth's attorney in the presence of witnesses. Then at its completion said, "My arm's broken so I can't raise it to swear, I'll just hold up a finger."

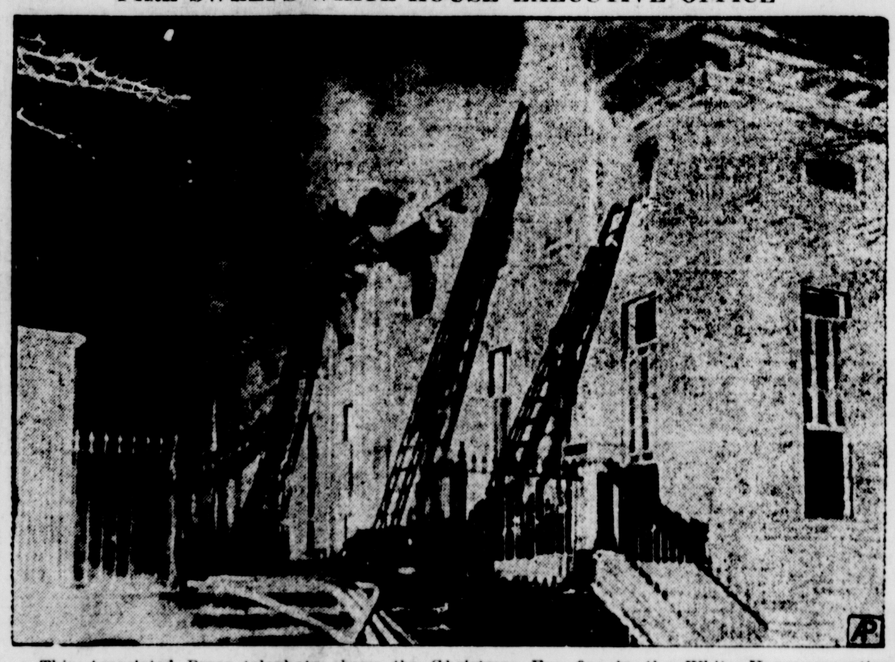

He raised his right forefinger and swore to the affidavit. In it he declared that he recognized six of the men who surprised S. L. Combs, the jailer, bound him and took his keys, had dragged Fugate from his cell in his night clothes, beat him with a blackjack, trampled upon him, shot him and hurled his apparently lifeless body into a ditch a few miles from town where Jim Butler, a farmer, heard his groans and prayers.

All Wore Masks

The men bound over and released in bail shortly before Fugate died and their kindship to Clay Watkins, are:

Samuel J. Watkins, brother; L. K. Rice, son-in-law; Allie aWtkins, son, and Earl and Bent Howard, nephews. All waived preliminary hearing and their cases are expected to be taken up when the grand jury meets January 6. Estimates of the jailer and Fugate as to the total number of men in the mob ranged from 30 to 40, even as high as 100, and Combs said all the men he saw wore masks.

FIRE SWEEPS WHITE HOUSE EXECUTIVE OFFICE

This Associated Press telephoto shows the Christmas Eve fire in the White House executive office.

REPAIR WORK BEING RUSHED

White House Fire Came From Overheated Flue, Is Belief

Washington, Dec. 26 (AP)—For one brief day the thirty-first president of the United States did his routine office work in the study replete with memories of other presidents from Adams to Roosevelt, who directed the affairs of the nation from where Herbert Hoover spent most of today at an unfamiliar desk.

A few hundred feet away laborers were hammering and scraping to adjust the wreckage of the president's office building. The busyness was preparatory to restoring the fire-ruined structure, upon Mr. Hoover's order, so that the office work of the vast executive duties can be resumed as quickly as possible at the west wing of the White House.

Will Not Build

Just across the street, too, the government employes were preparing the old offices of the secretary of the navy in the state, war and navy building for temporary occupancy. These quarters are being counted on to be ready for the president tomorrow. He hopes it will not be necessary to use them for long.

Because of the inconvenience that will be caused his staff and the curtailment it will force in his visitors' list, Mr. Hoover de-

Mary and John D. Receive Refunds From Government

Washington, Dec. 26 (AP)—John D. Rockefeller, Mary Pickford, and thousands of individuals and firms figuratively rubbed elbows in a treasury department report to congress made public today which listed refunds allowed by the government on taxes collected throuh error in the fascal year of 1929.

The report covered refunds ranging from items of $500 to individuals, companies and estates in every section of the union, to a single refund of $25,847,159 to the Carnegie Steel company, the largest single beneficiary recorded in the report.

Mary Pickford was refunded $10,163 and John D. Rockefeller, $157,227.

Shots Exchanged In Border Rum Seizure

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 26 (AP)—An unidentified Mexican was killed and another captured in a gun fight between border patrolmen and a band of eight or ten alleged liquor smugglers here tonight in which shots were fired from the Mexican side of the Rio Grande. The fight occurred about five blocks from El Paso's business district. Forty gallons of liquor were seized.

Summon 6 to Face Poison Death Quiz

Los Angeles, Dec. 26 (AP)—Six persons were summoned today to appear for questioning by Deputy District Attorney Daniel Beecher in connection with his investigation of charges made by Mrs. Gladys McAffee that her grand uncle, George LaFayette Finn, former Iowa state senator, may have been poisoned and a will disposing of his $1,000,000 estate forged.

Oscar Gets Even With Railway At Duluth-Superior

Superior, Wis., Dec. 26 (AP)—As two cities look on and snicker, Oscar Nelson, 63, today is getting revenge from the Great Northern railway. He is hitting the road where it hurts—the pocketbook.

Three years ago, Oscar was halted when he tried to walk across the Great Northern's interstate bridge to Duluth, Minn., because he didn't have a nickel toll. He's been peeved ever since.

But winter and the Superior and Duluth city councils unknowingly conspired to help Oscar get even.

Ice Road Cheaper

St. Louis bay froze over. The two governing bodies agreed the other should stand the expense of smoothing off the ice hummocks that motorists might cross the bay instead of using the bridge.

Here Oscar comes in. Armed with a new pick and shovel, he went to work without pay on the rough places Christmas Day. He completed the job today.

Motorists rejoicing at the chance to cross without paying a toll, started using Oscar's road in preference to the Great Northern.

TUNNEY SUIT NOT PRESSED

Alienation of Affections Case May Also be Settled

Hartford, Conn., Dec. 26 (AP)—Mrs. Katherine King Fogarty, divorcee, of Fort Worth, Texas, and New York City, signed today through her counsel a stipulation that her $500,000 breach of promise suit against James J. (Gene) Tunney, former heavyweight champion of the world, should be decided in court tomorrow in favor of Tunney.

Cloaked in legal phraseology, the stipulation set forth that a motion for a judgment on her suit and Tunney's cross-complaint would be uncontested in superior court in Bridgeport tomorrow, and that an injunction restraining her from ever prosecuting a similar claim should issue against her. Colonel Lewis Field signed the stipulation for Mrs. Fogarty here today.

Gene, however, still would face a $500,000 alienation of affections suit filed by the woman's husband, John S. Fogarty, once a Fort Worth plumber. Counsel for both sides however have held conferences giving rise to reports that this action also may be ended.

Town Goes Broke; Homes Moved Out

Cheyenne, Wyo., Dec. 26 (AP)—House by house, Manville, Wyo., is being divested of its homes and business structures.

Property owners have been moving buildings out of town at the rate of two or three a week since bonds issued by the municipality were defaulted. The mayor of Manville appealed to the state attorney general but was advised there was nothing in the Wyoming law to prevent a man from moving his house.

Manville once was a thriving little town. It slumped, however, and extensive municipal improvements for which the bonds were issued, went into disuse. A large hotel built recently was moved nearly a hundred miles to another town. Some buildings are being moved just outside the city limits.

There are now between 100 and 125 houses left in Manville, many of them unoccupied, and the population of the town is barely 300. During its boom days the population was more than 2,000.

HUNT KILLERS, BANK BANDITS

Comb Southern Kentucky; Posse Posts Guards at Cave

Smith's Grove, Ky., Dec. 26 (AP)—The most extensive manhunt this southern Kentucky section has ever known was in progress tonight as posses estimated at from 800 to 1,000 men patroled highways and guarded a small cave in the search for three bandits who today shot and killed J. Robert Kirby, 45, president of the Farmers' bank, after robbing another bank of $1,000.

Acting on information that two of the men had been seen to enter the cave, which is at Hays, a mile and a half from the scene of the shooting, one posse tonight was guarding the entrance, and waiting for daylight to use tear gas bombs.

Other groups of armed men patroled all highways and the Louisville and Nashville railroad a few miles to the west to prevent the escape of the desperadoes.

Kirby was shot down as he and several others tried to halt the bandits' car after the three men had robbed the bank at Oakland, near here, of approximately $1,000.

Count No Title Over In Boston

Boston, Dec. 26 (AP)—Evidently counts count for less here than in Germany.

Today Frederick Franz Graf Grote applied for a license to wed Miss Rachel D. Smith of Back Bay. Joseph A. Cahalan, assistant registrar, asked the prospective bridegroom the meaning of "graf."

"It means 'count,'" said the applicant.

"If President Hoover came in here and wrote his name 'Herbert President Hoover,' we'd cross out the president," said Cahalan, running his pen through the "graf."

The applicant gave his address as the Harvard Club of New York.

Pursuing Bruin Killed With Ax When Rifle Jams

Englehart, Ont., Dec. 26 (AP)—While playing in the woods today, the young son of M. Manness disturbed a large bear. Frightened, the youngster ran toward his father with bruin in close pursuit. Manness took aim with his rifle, but it jammed. He reached for his ax and killed the animal with several blows on the skull.

CHICAGO GIVEN WATER RIGHTS

War Department Extends Present License After Dec. 31

Washington, Dec. 26 (AP)—Authority for diversion of Lake Michigan water into the Chicago river after expiration on December 31 of the present license will be given to the Chicago sanitary district by the war department.

Secretary Hurley, who earlier had assured both Chicago and the lake states that he would do nothing to prejudice their interest in the matter which is now before the supreme court of the United States, said today it had been decided that an administrative act would be necessary to permit diversion until such time as the supreme court hands down a decision.

Follow Hughes Views

The order, which is to be issued in the next few days, would permit diversion at the present rate for the time being, he said, conforming the recommendations made by Charles Evans Hughes, special master appointed by the supreme court.

In order not to conflict with any decision which may be reached by the court, Mr. Hurley said the extension of the privilege would have no set date for expiration, but would automatically terminate at the time the court's authority is asserted.

Pantages Called "Genuinely Sick"

Los Angeles, Dec. 26 (AP)—Two physicians, appearing today at the hearing before Superior Judge Charles Fricke of Alexander Pantages' plea for temporary release from jail on bond, testified the multimillionaire vaudeville magnate, convicted of assaulting a young dancer, had suffered "three dangerous heart attacks" and was "genuinely sick."

In the meantime Pantages, who is awaiting decision on his appeal from a one to fifty year penitentiary sentence, was removed to the jail hospital following an attack yesterday.

France Pays 12 Million On Debts

Washington, Dec. 26 (AP)—The treasury tonight announced the receipt of $12,067,934 from the government of France, completing payment of annuities due up to this time under the Mellon-Berenger agreement for funding the $4,025,000,000 ward debt France owed the United States.

Old Lincoln Stockholders Sue Ford For Six Million; Claims He Promised to Pay Them in 1922

Pontiac, Mich., Dec. 26 (AP)—A statement that Henry Ford made an oral promise to pay stockholders of the old Lincoln Motor company which he bought at a receiver's sale eight years ago was made in a deposition filed here today in the $6,000,000 suit of the old stockholders against Ford.

The deposition was given by John H. Bourne, former secretary to Henry M. Leland, who was head of the old Lincoln company. Bourne, who gave his testimony at his home in Detroit on account of illness, said that Ford made the promise to Leland in the spring of 1922, shortly after the purchase

Had No Value

However, Bourne said, letters to stockholders who made inquiries as to their status after the receiver's sale told them that their stock had no value. Bourne himself wrote these letters, he said, but signed the names of Henry and W. C. Leland to them, without the Lelands' consent or knowledge.

The letters, he said, were written under instructions from Harold W. Emmons, attorney for the Lincoln Motor company. Emmons' idea, he said, "seemed to be that nothing should be said about any plan to pay the stockholders "until Mr. Ford got ready to make the announcement himself; that it is going to be an occasion for Mr. Ford to display a lot of so-called generosity, which would be all bunk because he was getting a hundred cents worth on the dollar for what he paid. x x x x Harold rather ridiculed it and called it x x x 'a la Ford' referring to Ford's methods of getting such publicity for his alleged generosity."

2,400 Complainants

Ford, Bourne said, twice promised Leland that the stockholders of the defunct company would be paid in full, one occasion being at a party at the plant on the occasion of Leland's birthday, when, he said, Ford handed Leland a check, saying "show it to them, Mr. Leland. They are all going to get them just the same."

The present suit, in which the deposition was filed, is an amended bill of complaint, filed last April, in which is listed the names of approximately 2,400 former Lincoln stockholders.

The amended bill was filed after the Michigan supreme court held that Judge Frank L. Covert had erred in denying a motion of Ford's attorneys to dismiss the original suit. The high court suggested the form of the new bill.

SPONGE WORK WHITE HOUSE LUNCH TOPIC

TROUBLE IN LAW, SAYS LEADER OF WETS

Washington, Dec. 26 (AP)—Senator Borah's despair of ever enforcing prohibition "with the present personnel from top to bottom" today led a personal discussion on that inflammatory topic between him and President Hoover during luncheon at the White House.

Not another subject was mentioned, but details of the views exchanged were withheld both by the chief executive and the Republican dry from Idaho. Having taken a leading role in the Hoover presidential campaign through his emphasis of the prohibition issue, Senator Bohar's Christmas Eve arraignment of the entire Volstead-enforcement lineup has intensified the tension over prohibition in Washington.

Tighten Border Leaks

The latest flare-up was another retort to the Idahoan from the treasury department today. Undersecretary Mills divulged plans for a unified border patrol and limitation of the number of Canadian ports of entry, as means to restrict smuggling liquors. He said the treasury would submit these to congress as soon as it names a joint committee to consider enforcement questions.

While the senatorial disputants over enforcement were having their say, Henry H. Curran, president of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, issued a formal statement concerning the developments. It read:

Law Is Wrong?

"I see by the papers that Borah says the only trouble with prohibition is that the snoopers do not snoop efficiently, but Mitchell says the trouble is with congress, while Doran says the trouble is with the American people.

"Did it never occur to any of them that perhaps the trouble lies in the law itself?

"Perhaps they have read their Iolanthe well enough to make up a trip and do this little chorus for us:

"'The law is the true embodiment
Of everything that's excellent.
It has no kind of fault or flaw
And I, my lords, embody the law.'"

Boys Find New Use For Old Yule Trees

Battle Creek, Dec. 26 (AP)—The family Christmas tree, heretofore consigned to unsightly oblivion on the ash heap after New Year's is on the threshold of a glorious resurrection, according to L. C. Rivers, D. D. Dugan and Del Brodock, three local youths.

The young entrepeneurs today announced their attention of starting a rustic furniture factory with discarded Christmas trees as their source of supply. The three purchased a stock of 3,000 trees left on the hands of a local dealer yesterday.

Congressman To Be Interred In Utah

Washington, Dec. 26 (AP)—Accompanied by a congressional delegation, the body of Representative Elmer O. Leatherwood of Utah, was placed aboard a train which left here at 4:20 p. m. today for Salt Lake City, where the funeral will be held Sunday.

LOST PISTOL IS GANGSTER LINK

Slaying Contract Only Loot Kept in "Faked" Holdup

New York, Dec. 26 (AP)—A year ago July 1 Frankie Yale was killed. Last June 24 Frank Marlow was taken for a ride from which he didn't come back. December 7 a dinner party being given for Magistrate Albert Vitale was held up. Today the two unsolved gangster murders and the holdup of the dinner for the city magistrate were linked together, all because a detective lost his pistol.

The holdup was "faked," Police Inspector Joseph J. Donovan testified today at the departmental trial of Detective Arthur Johnson who is under charges of conduct unbecoming an officer and consorting with criminals, growing out of the publicity given the loss of his pistol. What the holdup men wanted, Donovan said, was a contract for the killing of Yale and Marlow, which was signed by a Bronx racketeer and on which $15,000 still was due.

Walked Into Trap

The contract, Donovan said, was in the pocket of a "man from Chicago" who, lulled into a sense of false security, walked into the trap the New York slickers had set for him.

When seven robbers held up the Vitale dinner they took Johnson's pistol, several hundred dollars in cash and jewelry (that made it look like a good robbery) and the contract. All but the contract was returned within a few hours to the "victims", most of whom, Donovan said, knew about the holdup two hours before it was staged.

Paid $5,000 Down

The contract, the inspector explained, was signed by Ciro Terranova, who was a guest at the dinner who is most familiarly known as "The Artichoke King" and who has been many times arrested but never convicted.

As Inspector Donovan told it, Yale and Marlow, who had many rackets, had been poaching on preserves Terranova claimed as his own. Terranova didn't like it. He got in touch with some friends in Chicago who agreed—for $20,000—to get the two men out of his way. He paid them $5,000 on account.

Wanted the Balance

Yale and Marlow were killed. The Chicago man wanted his $15,000. On the night of Dec. 7 he was in New York with the contract in his pocket. They could pay, he said, or he would drop the contract and an explanatory letter in a mailbox, addressed to Police Commissioner Whalen.

"We'll pay," he was told, "but first why not go to a little dinner party and have a good time." It was a good party, for a city magistrate and other judges would be there and Detective Johnson, who would sit beside him so he wouldn't come to harm.

He didn't come to harm, but when the holdup men came in on the dinner one of the first they searched was "the guy next to Johnson." From his pocket they took the contract.

Back to Chicago

Terranova is at liberty. Yale and Marlow are dead, as per contract. The "man from Chicago" apparently has gone home.

William Bailey of Brooklyn is held as Yale's murderer, but never has been brought to trial. Parker Henderson, son of a former Miami, Fla., mayor was brought here to testify as to whether he had any information pointing to a connection between the killing and Al Capone, then a resident of Miami, now a prisoner in Pennsylvania for a year. (He was caught in Philadelphia last summer carrying a gun.) Nothing ever came of it.

Johnny Wilson, former middleweight boxing champion whom Marlow at one time managed and with whom he ate his last supper, Edward L. Lewis and Al Seigel are held in from $20,000 to $50,000 bail in Marlow's murder. No one has been charged with the actual killing.

Lawyer Watched

Magistrate Vitale, who was a friend of Terranova's and sat in a box with him at the last annual party of the Tepecano club, which is not the regular Democratic organization of the district, is under nivestigation by the city bar association.

Johnson's trial was adjourned today until next Monday after he had testified in his own defense that he did not know Terranova, that he thought the holdup was "bona-fide" and that when Magistrate Vitale returned his pistol to him a few hours after the stickup the magistrate declined to tell him where he had got it.

What further action Commissioner Whalen plans in the murders and the holdup, he declined to reveal today.

Federal Reserve District Weathers November Slump

Chicago, Dec. 26 (AP)—The federal reserve bank of Chicago, in a statement issued today showed a continued downward trend in employment and banking conditions throughout the five states included in the seventh federal reserve district during the month of November.

In Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin the survey showed heavy recessions in the rubber, food products, leather and vehicle groups, a loss of 3 per cent in employment, of 4.8 per cent in industrial and payrolls and a general decerease in accounts and deposits in the 196 banks in the district.

Despite the reported slump, the district was better than the average for last year, the report said. The non-manufacturing groups, wholesale and retail, showed a slight seasonal increase over the month of October, and public utilities were reported at about the same level through October and November. Building and construction were reported as "restricted" and coal mining payrolls as "declining sharply."

cided to have the restoration of his office quarters speeded.

While he has long felt that more adequate quarters were needed for the executive staff, the length of time that would necessarily be lost in planning and constructing an office elsewhere is thought to have persuaded him against seeking an entirely new building at this time.

In Lincoln Study

Mr. Hoover worked today in the historic presidential study on the second floor of the executive mansion. It was used by all of the nation's chief executives from President Adams to President Roosevelt, and Mr. Hoover recently had it restored after twenty-five years of disuse. It has come to be known as the Lincoln study. Abraham Lincoln having signed the Emancipation Proclamation there.

Contradicting previous conclusions, the chief engineer of the District of Columbia fire department today blamed the blaze upon an overheated flue in the office of Walter Newton, one of the presidential secretaries. The first fire was blamed upon defective wiring, but investigation by the chief engineer and others was said to have failed to reveal any wires which had been short-circuited.

Richly Furnished

When the president occupies the rooms in the state, war and navy building, he will have one of the statelliest suites in that structure. Used of late years by General John J. Pershing in his capacity as general of the armies, the apartment is richly furnished and decorated. Until the regime of Josephus Daniels, it was occupied by the secretary of the navy, but that office was moved during the war to the temporary navy building several blocks away.

All signs of the naval regime have vanished from its walls. Busts and portraits of famous soldiers line the walls. The windows look directly down upon the burned White House office, beyond which can be seen the residence, and the grounds south of the house which the president uses every morning for his medicine ball session with members of the cabinet and friends.

On this trip Shestakov flew across Siberia and passed near the place where Eielson and Borland are believed to be marooned off the Siberian coast. News of the selection of Shestakov to head the expedition was received gladly because of his familiarity with the territory.

Send Dog Team

The cablegram added that two airplanes now located at Bay Providence also will participate in the search and that the steamer Stavropol had been instructed on December 18 to send out a dog team in an effort to locate the flyers. No word has been received from the Stavropol on account of a damaged radio set. It can receive messages, but cannot send them.

"The Soviet government will be happy if the purpose of the expedition will be successfully achieved," the cablegram concluded.

The plight of the American flyers recalled here the Arctic expedition under General Umberto Nobile, which was lost two months last year after a flight to the North Pole in the dirigible Italia. Some of the survivors were rescued by a Russian ship, while Nobile and a few of his companions were saved by a Swedish expedition, several perished.

CANADIANS ARRIVE

Fairbanks, Alaska, Dec. 26 (AP)—The Eielson-Borland rescue expedition arrived here at 2:15 p. m. today by train from Seward. The three big Fairchild cabin planes which six Canadian airmen will fly from here to Bering strait to join in the search for the missing American fliers were removed to hangars for assembling.

The expedition probably will be held here for two or three days while the planes are assembled and tested, for the flight of more than 400 miles to Seward peninsula. The fliers, who left Seattle Saturday on the United States coast guard cutter Chelan, found it 30 degrees below zero here and the sky murky.

Captain T. M. "Pat" Reid will succeed Captain H. A. Oakes as leader of the expedition here. Reid, B. W. Broatch and Gifford Swartman will pilot the planes.

Rev. Thomas Jefferies, 85, who has preached 2,000 sermons, and Mrs. E. Brown, 69, were married recently at Swindon, England.

PARTY A PANIC AS ROOF FALLS

Card Players Fall on Dancers; Several Are Injured

Lancaster, Pa., Dec. 26 (AP)—Two hundred and fifty persons attended a card party and dance in a remodeled wagon shed at Quarryville, near here, narrowly escaped death tonight in the collapse of the second floor and roof of the building. Two women and two men were severly hurt. Nearly two score others suffered slight injuries, a number of them being cut in attempting to escape from the building after the crash.

Cards were being played by 150 on the second floor of the structure, a two story frame building, when suddenly the front of the flooring gave way, hurtling the players down the floor, which became a sliding board to the first floor, where about 50 couples were preparing to dance. The roof then tumbled on the entire assemblage.

Dash For Doors

Hearing the splintering of the floor above them, the dancers screamed and made a dash for the front door. Just as those in the front were about to make an exit, the flooring and the card players fell on them. The timbers blocked the door.

Panic reigned for a time with all those unhurt trying to get out of the building. Some of the men broke the plate glass windows on the first floor and the crowd pushed through the apertures.

Many of those injured were cut in climbing through the jagged holes in the glass.

The building was the hall of the American Legion post here. The party was held under the auspices of the Quarryville fire department.

Radiograms Carry Byrd's Gratitude For His New Rank

Washington, Dec. 26 (AP)—Four radiograms, sent from a tiny snow-covered hut in the Antarctic, were received in Washington today from Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, expressing his gratitude over his recent elevation in rank by congress.

The two most personal and informal messages were addressed to Speaker Longworth and Chairman Britten, of the house naval committee; another was received by Senator Swanson of Virginia, author of the measure to make Byrd the youngest of rear admirals, and the receipt of still another was announced by the navy department.

In the radiogram to Longworth, Byrd said he thought it "a mighty fine thing of congress to rush the bill through to get here in time for Christmas."

Recommends Others

The message to Britten was signed "Dick Byrd," and said that he was coming to Washington upon his return "to tell you how deeply grateful I am for all you have done for me." It ended with the words, "warmest regards, old fellow."

Britten said he had messaged Byrd that "congress so far has recognized only his own efforts and that when he returns he and his colleagues as well will be fittingly honored."

In thanking Senator Swanson for sponsoring the bill to raise his rank, Byrd said that when he returns to the United States he will bring to the former "a little American flag that I have carried for you on all my flights for the past three years."

The fourth radiogram was addressed to Secretary Adams and was picked up by the navy's radio station at Tutuila, Somoa, and relayed to Washington. In it Byrd acknowlegded announcement of his advancement in rank, and said he intended to recommend to the navy department "commendations of 15 navy men who have contributed greatly to the success of our enterprise."

Gold Star Mothers Invited on Journey To War Cemeteries

Washington, Dec. 26 (AP)—Four gold star mothers from Mason county, Mich., are included in the list of 11,400 such mothers and widows who will be the guests of the American government on a pilgrimage to the graves of their sons and husbands near European battle fields of the World war, it was announced today.

The four are: Mrs. Severe Duplessis, Mrs. K. Catherine Shunk and Mrs. Joseph Vorac, all of Ludington, Mich., and Mrs. Mary C. Sims, of Scottvile, Mich. Their sons, Dezerie Duplessis, Samuel Henry Shunk, Wilbur N. Sims and Lester Vorac, privates in the American expeditionary forces, are buried in the Neuse-Argonne cemetery near the scene of the last great American offensive.

Mrs. Shunk has signified her intention of taking the trip in 1930. Mrs. Duplessis and Mrs. Sims have declined, while Mrs. Vorac's wishes are stated in war department record's as "unknown."

Federal Agents Were Too Drunk To Walk, Charge

Couer D'Alene, Ida., Dec. 26 (AP)—Sheriff R. E. Weniger of Shoshone county, accused as the "arch rum conspirator of the county whiskey rebellion" today took the stand in federal court to explain why he had not made a greater number of arrests in his territory, where prohibition agents jailed almost 200 recently.

The sheriff is being tried with 27 others in the "Mullan conspiracy" which concerns alleged open sale of liquor and encouragement of vice in the little mining town. He is also named in the "Wallace conspiracy" which will come up later.

Hard to Get Warrant

Weniger, and his attorney attempted to show that an Idaho supreme court ruling prevented him from making arrests. The ruling made it necessary to obtain a positive statement of fact before issuance of a search warrant, he said.

Previously, defense witnesses had attacked the character of three federal witnesses. Two dry agents, hotel men said, had to be helped to bed in Mullan because they were "too drunk to walk."

Probe Slaying By U. S. Coast Guard In Smuggling Case

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 26 (AP)—District Attorney Guy B. Moore tonight started the state's investigation into the fatal shooting into Eugene F. Downey, Jr., last night, by questioning Asa Ennis, Rudolph Thompson and Orville Lagrant, the crew of the coast guard patrol boat which fired on Downey's boat.

The three coastguardsmen, all listed as boatswains mates, second class, were produced at the office of the district attorney by Martin W. Rassmussen, district comander of the coast guard, after William D. Mitchell, attorney general of the United States had instructed Richard H. Templeton, federal district attorney to cooperate with District Attorney Moore in the investigation into the shootingn.

Anoher phase of the state's investigation will begin tomorrow morning in the form of an inquest before Judge Peter Maul in city court. The three members of the patrol boat crew have been given subpoenaes. Medical Examiner Rocco N. De Dominicis today refused to issue a death certificate pending the inquest.

Movie Celebrities to Attend Outstanding Special Event

Hollywood, Calif., Dec. 26 (AP)—Wedding plans were being completed late today for the marriage here tomorrow night of Bessie Love, motion picture star, and William B. Hawks, Beverly Hills, Calif., broker.

The wedding will be one of the outstanding social events of the season in the film colony and most of its celebrities will be in St. James Episcopal church, scene of the ceremony, to felicitate the actress and her fiance.

Blanche Sweet, actress and long time friend of Miss Love, whose real name is Juanita Horton, will be matron of honor. The bridesmaids will be Bebe Daniels, Carmel Myers, Irene Mayer, Norma Shearer, and her sister, Miss Athol Shearer, and Margaret Aster. The brothers of the bridegroom, Kenneth and Howard, will be best men.

SUCCEEDS SHERIFF

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 26 (AP)—Attorney General Wilber H. Brucker today advised Prosecutor John D. Kerr, of Houghton county, that the vacancy created by the death last night of Sheriff Gust Hamina must be filled by the undersheriff. The latter will hold office until the November elections in 1930, the attorney general advised.

Party Will Journey To Canada Via Air

A party of four Escanaba men will fly to Little Currant, Ontario, Canada this morning in the Ryan brougham owned by the Upper Peninsula Airways. The party is composed of Larry Buck, who has business interests there, Joe Bonen, Harold Wescoat, and the pilot, Walter Arntzen. This is Mr. Buck's second trip to the Canadian city via airplane. Two years ago, he made the trip piloted by Joe Bonen. E. J. French had intended to make the trip with the party but he was unexpectedly called to Milwaukee yesterday afternoon.

The new plane has been equipped with skis for use in landing on snow covered field.

greater effect on the stabilization of finances abroad, though no large offering of international reparation bonds is likely to be made until the bond market in the United States shows a better frame of mind. This is expected to materialize in the early part of 1930, so really the delay in ratifying the Young plan has not had any serious consequence.

It was a nervous moment, however, for the international banking world, because, if Germany had disapproved the Young plan, it would have upset all the plans for financing of reparations, something which is calculated to improve the economic position of Europe to such an extent that its purchasing power, it is believed, will be materially enhanced.

Officials Happy.

With the United States looking across both oceans for more export trade to take up the surplus over the needs of domestic consumption, it may be said that on the next steps in putting the Young plan into effect the whole economic outlook of the world depends. It is not the amount of money which the American government will get out of the reparations settlement, but the vast sums expected to flow here through increased trade that make American officials happy that the Young plan has been finally approved by Germany.

Legislation is being urged in Britain to provide compensation for employes affected in business amalgamations.

Sore Throats and Coughs

Quickly Relieved by this Safe Prescription

Here's a doctor's prescription that is really throat insurance. Sore or irritated throats are relieved and soothed almost instantly with the very first swallow. About 90% of all coughs are caused by an irritated throat; consequently for most coughs too there is nothing better than this famous prescription—it goes direct to the internal cause. It is put up under the name Thoxine and is guaranteed to stop coughs and relieve sore throats in 15 minutes or your money will be refunded. Singers and speakers find Thoxine very valuable.

The remarkable thing about Thoxine is that while it relieves almost instantly, it contains nothing harmful, is pleasant tasting and safe for the whole family. Ask for Thoxine 35c., 60c., and $1.00 bottles. Sold by Ellsworth's, Dehlin's, Gladstone, and all other good drug stores.

Birds-Eye Workers Receive Christmas Gifts from Company

Employees of the Birds-Eye Veneer company were presented with worth while Christmas presents by the company in acknowledgement of their faithful service.

Sixty-five large turkeys were delivered to married employees, who had been with the company more than six months. To the single men, $2.50 gold pieces were given. Workers who have been identified with the company from three to six months received fruit cakes, while those serving less than three months were given suitable presents.

The employees in turn presented C. J. Byrns, president and general manager of the veneer company, with a handsome Westminster chimes electric clock, and to Mrs. Byrns an attractive necklace and bracelet.

The new decorative lighting equipment at the Birds-Eye plant, is now in operation nightly. The large American flag, with its red, white and blue lights, attracts the attention of many passersby. Electric signs, in the shape of stars, are installed over the several gateways to the plant.

INSURANCE AGENT HAS HIGH PRAISE FOR NEW KONJOLA

Tells How New And Different Medicine Restored Health After Severe Stomach And Kidney Disorders.

MR. THOMAS BRUSH

"I think Konjola is the medicine of the age," said Mr. Thomas Brush, 198 Baum street, Saginaw. "Just a few weeks ago I was in great misery. I could not eat anything without suffering agonies with my stomach. Gas would form and cause severe pains around my heart. My kidneys became disordered and I had to get up four or five times a night. I had pains in my legs that made walking a task.

"After reading some of the statements about Konjola made by Saginaw people, I decided to try this new medicine. After taking four bottles I could not find anything wrong with myself at all. I eat anything I want to, my kidneys are regular, and once more I enjoy my work. The quick and complete relief Konjola gave me proves its wonderful merit."

Konjola is sold in Escanaba at People's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section

TWO WEEKS OF WORRY.

NOW that the Christmas shopping has all been done, and the spirit of generosity is slowly beginning to subside for another 50 weeks or so, it might be a good thing to take a look at our annual custom of providing Christmas gifts for the unfortunate.

To begin with, it's a fine custom. We're a prosperous country, but there are a great many people who never have enough money to make a holiday out of Christmas. So, in every city in the land, the people who are better situated get together to fix them up. They give them food, clothing, fuel, toys, trinkets and so on, and the impulse back of it all is very fine.

And yet—did it ever occur to you that there's something wrong with the whole set-up?

We dig down into our pockets to provide Christmas cheer for those who are less fortunate than ourselves—and then we very promptly forget all about them for an entire year.

At Christmas time we can't stand it to think that within a mile of us there are men and women who aren't getting enough to eat, children who can't have a doctor when they're sick, whole families that go skidding along from day to day on ragged edge of nothing. So we get busy and do something about it.

But we won't bother our heads about it again until the next Christmas comes along.

These people that we've helped this Christmas will just have to get along the best they can between times. If they starve or freeze, or if their children are miserable because of undernourishment or bad health, it will be just too bad. We won't even hear about it, and if we do we won't listen very hard.

Not until next Christmas. Then we'll get busy again. We'll give fairly liberally, then, and we'll be rewarded by that warm glow of self-approval that comes when we think we've done something noble.

To be sure, in this world it's every man for himself. We seem to be pretty well satisfied that we're not our brothers' keepers. And, surely, we're not individually responsible for such things as unemployment.

But our attitude is funny, just the same.

At Christmas time the very thought of poverty bothers us. It makes us uneasy even to know that it exists. But during the rest of the year we accept poverty as part of the natural order of existence.

Some day poverty will be abolished from the earth. But that day won't come until we stop being indifferent to it for 50 weeks out of every year.

It will come when we worry about it all year long as much as we do now in the last two weks of December.

WAR'S FALSE ROMANCE.

IF WE can ever succeed in stripping war of its false glamour we shall have done more for the cause of world peace than all the treaties in the world can ever do.

War has a romantic glitter—provided you haven't seen it at close range. That glitter, that glamour, that romantic, drum-and-trumpet quality that invest the fighting man and the fighting ship with an aura more exciting and colorful than anything in our workaday world, are precisely the things that make it easy for nations to go to war.

Here is an example.

Embedded in the sandy shore of Lake Erie, near the town of Vermilion, O., are the decayed timbers of some long-forgotten ship.

The timbers have been there since the boyhood of the town's earliest inhabitant. No one knows what ship it was that drove upon the sands there, perhaps a century ago, and was buried in them as the drifting years passed. No one knows—and, until recently, no one cared.

But not long ago some antiquarian or other announced his belief that this rotting hulk was the wreck of one of the British war ships captured by Commodore Perry in the battle of Lake Erie.

Perry, having captured his famous "two ships, two brigs, one schooner and one sloop," undertook to get them to American ports. One of the vessels, however, was so riddled by shot that it was not worth the effort. So, according to the antiquarian's story, Perry removed its stores and equipment and let it go ashore, a total loss.

When this story came out, interest in the old hulk was suddenly stimulated. Metropolitan papers wrote stories about it. People came to look at the old timbers, poke at them, and moon over them. An old wreck—that was nothing; but the hulk of an old-time war vessel was something exciting, something worth going to see, something fit to be talked about and thought about.

Why should a wrecked warship be more picturesque than a wrecked grain carrier? Why have we built up this false romance about war?

Perry's battle with the British squadron was exciting, to be sure. But it was no more exciting than the peaceful deeds of the early Great Lakes merchant seamen. The hardy sailors who took their clumsy brig and schooners up the lakes, exploring the unknown bays and islands and carrying the first of the cargoes that were to build u pthe whole middle west, surely did as much for their country as Perry's fighters.

Peace is infinitely more romantic than war, if you look at it in the right way. Once we realize that fact, world peace will be in sight.

WHAT BYRD IS UP AGAINST.

THE ordinary map fails to give one a true perspective on geography.

Many people, for example, are unable to understand just why Commander Byrd's aerial explorations on the Antarctic continent should be such prodigious undertakings.

It will help you to grasp the extent of Byrd's job if you realize that the Antarctic continent is half again as large as the whole United States. Consider, on top of that, that the whole area is entirely uninhabited and covered with ice and snow, criss-crossed by high mountains and swept by terrific storms.

In that way you can see why Byrd's job is so tremendous. Suppose that the United States were a frost-bound, uninhabited wilderness, and that some daring aviator were to try to fly from Boston to a point in western Nebraska, under the necessity of getting back without landing anywhere en route. Then you can realize what Byrd is up against.

No two objects in the universe can be more than 540,000,000,000,000,000 miles apart, science has discovered. Surely the law doesn't always hold, however, as any two men who pick All-American football teams must be farther apart than that.

Consider the alarm clock. It goes along giving people bad news for years and never has to have its face lifted.

A writer in a woman's magazine says feminine clothing these days is nothing if not sensible. Perhaps she should have said "next to nothing."

Soviet Russia has abolished Sunday. That's one way to get rid of the traffic problem, at that.

It always has been a puzzle to us why more butchers did not go into the prize fighting business. Some of those fellows have very heavy hands.

A professor says the radio should help to cut down divorces. It puts marriage on a sound basis.

Consider the Christmas toy; its life is brief, but it certainly does get the breaks.

A certain comedian has become a soap manufacturer. Probably all washed up as a comedian.

A professor writes that only fools are certain of anything. But, professor, are you sure?

VIII

In time the bells ceased, and the bakers were shut up; and yet there was a genial shadowing forth of all these dinners, and the progress of their cooking, in the thawed blotch of wet above each baker's oven, where the pavement smoked as if its stones were cooking too.

"Is there a peculiar flavour in what you sprinkle from your torch?" asked Scrooge.

"There is. My own."

"Would it apply to any kind of dinner on this day?" asked Scrooge.

"To any kindly given. To a poor one most."

"Why to a poor one most?" asked Scrooge.

"Because it needs it most."

"Spirit!" said Scrooge after a moment's thought, "I wonder you, of all the beings in the many worlds about us, should desire to cramp these people's opportunities of innocent enjoyment."

"I!" cried the Spirit.

"You would deprive them of their means of dining every seventh day, often the only day on which they can be said to dine at all," said Scrooge; "wouldn't you?"

"I!" cried the Spirit.

"You seek to close these places on the Seventh Day," said Scrooge. "And it comes to the same thing."

"I seek!" exclaimed the Spirit.

"Forgive me if I am wrong. It has been done in your name, or at least in that of your family," said Scrooge.

"There are some upon this earth of yours," returned the Spirit, "who lay claim to know us, and who do their deeds of passion, pride, ill-will, hatred, envy, bigotry, and selfishness in our name, who are as strange to us, and all our kith and kin, as if they had never lived. Remember that, and charge their doings on themselves, not us."

Scrooge promised that he would; and they went on, invisible, as they had been before, into the suburbs of the town. It was a remarkable quality of the Ghost (which) Scrooge had observed at the baker's), that notwithstanding his gigantic size, he could accommodate himself to any place with ease; and that he stood beneath a low roof quite as gracefully and like a supernatural creature as it was possible he could have done in any lofty hall.

And perhaps it was the pleasure the good Spirit had in showing off this power of his, or else it was his own kind, generous, hearty nature, and his sympathy with all poor men, that led him straight to Scrooge's clerk's; for there he went, and took Scrooge with him, holding to his robe; and on the threshold of the door the Spirit smiled, and stopped to bless Bob Cratchit's dwelling with the sprinklings of his torch. Think of that! Bob had but fifteen 'Bob' a week himself; he pocketed on Saturdays but fifteen copies of his Christian name; and yet the Ghost of Christmas Present blessed his four-roomed house!

Then up rose Mrs. Cratchit, Cratchit's wife, dressed out but poorly in a twice-turned gown, but brave in ribbons, which are cheap, and make a goodly show for six-pence; and she laid the cloth, assisted by Belinda Cratchit, second of her daughters, also brave in ribbons; while Master Peter Cratchit plunged a fork into the saucepan of potatoes, and getting the corners of his monstrous shirt-collar (Bob's private property, conferred upon his son and heir in honour of the day), into his mouth, rejoiced to find himself so gallantly attired, and yearned to show his linen in the fashionable Parks. And now two smaller Cratchits, boy and girl, came tearing in, screaming that outside the baker's they had smelt the goose, and known it for their own; and basking in luxurious thoughts of sage and onion, these young Cratchits danced about the table, and exalted Master Peter Cratchit to the skies, while he (not proud, although his collars nearly choked him) blew the fire, until the slow potatoes, bubbling up, knocked loudly at the saucepan-lid to be let out and peeled.

"What has ever got your precious father, then?" said Mrs. Cratchit. "And your brother, Tiny Tim? And Martha warn't as late last Christmas Day by half an hour!"

"Here's Martha, mother!" said a girl, appearing as she spoke.

"Here's Martha, mother!" cried the two young Cratchits. "Hurrah! There's such a goose, Martha!"

"Why, bless your heart alive, my dear, how late you are!" said Mrs. Cratchit, kissing her a dozen times, and taking off her shawl and bonnet for her with officious zeal.

"We'd a deal of work to finish up last night," replied the girl, "and had to clear away this morning, mother!"

"Well! never mind so long as you are come," said Mrs. Cratchit. "Sit ye down before the fire, my dear, and have a warm, Lord bless ye!"

"No, no! There's father coming," cried the two young Cratchit's who were everywhere at once. "Hide, Martha, hide!"

So Martha hid herself, and in came little Bob, the father, with at least three feet of comforter, exclusive of the fringe, hanging down before him, and his threadbare clothes darned up and brushed to look seasonable, and Tiny Tim upon his shoulder. Alas for Tiny Tim, he bore a little crutch, and had his limbs supported by an iron frame!

"Why, where's our Martha?" cried Bob Cratchit, looking round.

"Not coming," said Mrs. Cratchit.

"Not coming!" said Bob, with a sudden declension in his high spirits; for he had been Tim's blood-horse all the way from church, and had come home rampant. "Not coming upon Christmas Day!"

Martha didn't like to see him disappointed, if it were only in joke; so she came out prematurely from behind the closet door, and ran into his arms, while the two young Cratchits hustled Tiny Tim and bore him off into the wash-house, that he might hear the pudding singing in the copper.

"And how did little Tim behave?" asked Mrs. Cratchit when she had rallied Bob on his credulity, and Bob had hugged his daughter to his heart's content.

"As good as gold," said Bob, "and better. Somehow, he gets thoughtful, sitting by himself so much, and thinks the strangest things you ever heard. He told me, coming home, that he hoped the people saw him in the church because he was a cripple, and it might be pleasant to them to remember upon Christmas Day who made lame beggars walk and blind men see."

Bob's voice was tremulous when he told them this, and trembled more when he said that Tiny Tim was growing strong and hearty.

His active little crutch was heard upon the floor, and back came Tiny Tim before another word was spoken, escorted by his brother and sister to his stool beside the fire; and while Bob, turning up his cuffs—as if, poor fellow, they were capable of being made more shabby—compounded some hot mixture in a jug with gin and lemons, and stirred it round and round, and put it on the hob to simmer, Master Peter and the two ubiquitous young Cratchits went to fetch the goose, with which they soon returned in high procession.

Such a bustle ensued that you might have thought a goose the rarest of all birds; a feathered phenomenon, to which a black swan was a matter of course—and, in truth, it was something very like it in that house. Mrs. Cratchit made the gravy (ready beforehand in a little saucepan) hissing hot; Master Peter mashed the potatoes with incredible vigour; Miss Belinda sweetened up the apple sauce; Martha dusted the hot plates; Bob took Tiny Tim beside him in a tiny corner at the table; the two young Cratchits set chairs for everybody, not forgetting themselves, and, mounting guard upon their posts, crammed spoons into their mouths, lest they should shriek for goose before their turn came to be helped. At last the dishes were set on, and grace was said. It was succeeded by a breathless pause, as Mrs. Cratchit, looking slowly all along the carving-knife, prepared to plunge it in the breast; but when she did, and when the long-expected gush of stuffing issued forth, one murmur of delight arose all round the board, and even Tiny Tim, excited by the two young Cratchit's beat on the table with the handle of his knife and feebly cried Hurrah!

There never was such a goose. Bob said he didn't believe there ever was such a goose cooked. Its tenderness and flavour, size and cheapness, were the themes of universal admiration. Eked out by apple sauce and mashed potatoes, it was a sufficient dinner for the whole family; indeed, as Mrs. Cratchit said with great delight (surveying one small atom of a bone upon the dish), they hadn't ate it all at last! Yet every one had had enough, and the youngest Cratchits, in particular, were steeped in sage and onion to the eyebrows! But now, the plates being changed by Miss Belinda, Mrs. Cratchit left the room alone—too nervous to bear witnesses—to take the pudding up, and bring it in.

Suppose it should not be done enough! Suppose it should break in turning out! Suppose somebody should have got over the wall of the brick-yard and stolen it, while they were merry with the goose—a supposition at which the two young Cratchits became livid! All sorts of horrors were supposed.

Hallo! A great deal of steam! The pudding was out of the copper. A smell like a washing-day! That was the cloth. A smell like an eating-house and a pastry-cook's next door to each other, with a laundress' next door to that! That was the pudding! In half a minute Mrs. Cratchit entered—flushed, but smiling proudly—with the pudding, like a speckled cannon-ball, so hard and firm, blazing in half of half-a-quartern of ignited brandy, and bedight with Christmas holly stuck into the top.

Oh, a wonderful pudding! Bob Cratchit said, and calmly too, that he regarded it as the greatest success achieved by Mrs. Cratchit since their marriage. Mrs. Cratchit said that, now the weight was off her mind, she would confess she had her doubts about the quantity of flour. Everybody had something to say about it, but nobody said or thought it was at all a small pudding for a large family. It would have been flat heresy to do so. Any Cratchit would have blushed to hint at such a thing.

At last the dinner was all done, the cloth was cleared, the hearth swept, and the fire was made up. The compound in the jug being tasted, and considered perfect, apples and oranges were put upon the table, and a shovel full of chestnuts on the fire. Then all the Cratchit family drew round the hearth in what Bob Cratchit called a circle, meaning half a one; and at Bob cratchit's elbow stood the family display of glass. Two tumblers and a custard cup without a handle.

These held the hot stuff from the jug, however, as well as golden goblets would have done; and Bob served it out with beaming looks while the chestnuts on the fire sputtered and crackled noisily. Then Bob proposed:

"A merry Christmas to us all, my dears. God bless you!"

Which all the family re-echoed.

"God Bless us every one!" said Tiny Tim, the last of all.

He sat very close to his father's side, upon his little stool. Bob held his withered little hand to his, as if he loved the child and wished to keep him by his side, and dreaded that he might be taken from him.

"Spirit," said Scrooge, with an interest he had never felt before, "tell me if Tiny Tim will live."

"I see a vacant seat," replied the Ghost, "in the poor chimney corner, and a crutch without an owner, carefully preserved. If these shadows remain unaltered by the Future, the child will die."

SINGS

New Year's Day can't be so far;
I don't need to look,
Look at any calendar,
Almanac or book.
Pa is acting good again,
And I know it brings
Notice of the season when
Pa is cutting wings.

Yes, I know it's Christmas week,
New Year's is the next.
Pa is looking mighty meek,
Like a bible text,
Looking meek, yet with a brow
Noble as a king's.
Yes, it's almost New Year's now—
Pa is cutting wings.

Nothing Pa has really quit
Yet, you understand,
But he's getting set for it,
With the year at hand.
Never saw him smoke so much,
Blow so many rings,
Soon tobacco he won't touch—
Pa is cutting wings.

When it's New Year's I'll be glad,
Gladder when it's gone.
Home will be almighty sad
While he's hanging on.
Then some night he'll say, "My dear,
Where's my pipe and things?"
Then it's over for a year,
All this cutting wings.

Nearly 475,000 pounds of toilet and fancy soap were shipped from the United States to British India in the first six months of this year.

A headline warns people to beware of $100 bills because there are many bad ones in circulation. That won't interest many people at this time of the year.

The survivors are her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Anna Peterson, Escanaba; a son, Gustav, Menominee, and five grandchildren.

The decedent was a charter member of the Swedish Lutheran church.

The body was prepared for burial at the Square People's store and later was removed to the family home where funeral services were held Thursday afternoon with Rev. L. J. Sodergren officiating.

Burial was in the Menominee cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Flanagan, Mother of Webster School Head, Dies

Mrs. Mary Flannagan, 70, mother of Principal C. W. Flannagan of the Webster school, died at her home in Iron River on Monday. Death was due to heart attack.

The attack which brought about death was first noticed at about 10:15 p. m. Sunday evening. Up to that time Mrs. Flannagan has been enjoying exceptionally good health.

She was born in Cleveland December 9, 1859, moving to Green Bay with her parents while still only a small child. There she married Thomas Flannagan and soon after that the two moved to Iron River. Mr. Flannagan preceded his wife in death in November of last year.

While in Green Bay, before her marriage, Mrs. Flannagan was engaged in the teaching profession. Her husband was also a teacher and came to this city in that capacity.

She is survived by four sons, Edward and Chester, both of Iron River, Clement, of Escanaba, and Clarence of Chicago; two daughters, Mrs. M. J. Schroeder, of Vulcan, and Mrs. Lyle Braxill, of Iron River, one sister, Mrs. Pat Flannagan of Iron Mountain, and one brother, Michael Hayers, of DePere, Wis.

Funeral services were held yesterday morning from the St. Agnes Catholic church, the Rev. Fr. James Lenhart officiating. Burial will be in Resthaven cemetery.

Automobile Stolen from Manistique

A Hudson coach, owned by Ivan Grant, was stolen from Manistique on Wednesday, according to a message received from Sheriff J. M. Hewitt by local authorities.

The stolen car bears New York license plates H-93-244.

Four Boys Nabbed for Stealing Goods from Parked Autos

Four boys were apprehended Wednesday morning for pilfering articles from automobiles parked in front of St. Joseph's church during midnight mass services.

They are: John Milkovich, 1421 South Eighth avenue; William Connelly, 308 South Fourteen street; Floyd Gaffney, 215 North Eighteenth street and Lloyd Cass, Twelfth avenue south. A police officer making the rounds discovered the boys rummaging through a sack near one of the parked cars, and when they saw the officer, they fled. After a six block chase, the Milkovich youth was captured. Later his companions were rounded up.

They will be taken before Juvenile Judge Judd Yelland.

Opals in Vogue in Europe

Owners of opals are not considered unlucky, but up-to-date, in Europe this season. As the result of fashion's decree that the gems are vogue they are being worn by the best dressers. The demand for the stones is in excess of the supply, and as a result prices have soared.

HERE is our challenge to the whole world of radio. Come into our store today and we will put a Majestic side-by-side with any other radio no matter how costly. We will connect both to the same aerial with a switch to operate them alternately. Now, make this side-by-side test under precisely the same conditions, considering each of these seven essential points:

✓ 1. TONE—hear Majestic's broader musical range, its complete freedom from hum, its perfect balance between high and low tones.

✓ 2. SENSITIVITY—count the extra stations Majestic gets at full volume.

✓ 3. SELECTIVITY—see how Majestic's clean separation of stations leaves more room on the dial for distance.

✓ 4. EASE OF CONTROL—see how easily Majestic tunes, how free it leaves your mind from any thought of its mechanical operation.

✓ 5. BEAUTY—notice Majestic's artistic simplicity of design. See why a million women have welcomed Majestic's period cabinet as an addition to the beauty of their homes.

✓ 6. RELIABILITY—look inside—see how advanced engineering and strong construction assure carefree, dependable performance.

✓ 7. QUIET OPERATION—free from AC hum, sputter and all background noise.

WHAT could be fairer than this side-by-side test? Time after time we have said, "You can not buy a better radio than Majestic at any price." This side-by-side test will prove it. Let your own ears and eyes decide.

LOCAL COUPLE ARE MARRIED

Margaret Gunnarson Becomes Brides of Rueben Larson

Miss Margaret Gunnarson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gunnarson, Oak street, and Reuben Larson, son of Mrs. John Larson, Michigan avenue, were united in marriage at a quiet ceremony Christmas day. The ceremony took place in the Gunnarson home, with members of both families attending at 11:00 a. m., the Rev. V. E. Holmstedt, officiating.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served to immediate members of both families.

The couple were attended by Miss Bernice Gunnarson, sister of the bride and Max Larson, brother of the groom.

The bride was attired in a gown of dark blue georgette with matching accessories and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bridesmaid wore a gown of light green georgette and carried a bouquet of roses.

Both are graduates of the Manistique high school and have a host of friends in this city. Mrs. Larson is now employed at the Manistique bank and the groom is a student at the Bradley School of Horology.

The couple left for a short motor trip to various points in the upper peninsula, after which they will both return to their respective duties.

Mr. and Mrs. Helmer Groop of Escanaba, attended the marriage.

Frank Downey went to Munising on Saturday.

The Steuben School presented a Christmas program around a Christmas tree on Tuesday evening.

Autos Must Wear '30 Tags January 1

"Every auto operating in Manistique on January 1, must display a 1930 license plate or the owner will be arrested," stated Chief of Police John Peterson, yesterday. "The plates went on sale, December 2, and owners have had a full month in which to acquire them. This is certainly sufficient time and the provision requiring all autos in operation to have new licenses by the first of the year will be strictly enforced."

While the sale of 1930 tags at the local branch has speeded up considerably during the last few days, there are a great many autos upon the streets still bearing 1929 plates and the last minute rush is expected to start daily.

ELKS HOST TO 125 AT DINNER

Great Gathering of Youngsters Enjoy Annual Event

One hundred and twenty-five boys and girls surrounded the festive table, Christmas day when the Elks club played host to the youngsters of this city, at their annual Christmas dinner. This is the largest group ever gathered together for this event.

The youngsters were picked up by Ray Prine and his assistants, who transported them to the scene of the festivities, where a dinner composed of turkey, mashed potatoes, cranberry sauce, and all the trimmin's was set before the group. How well they disposed of the birds is safely attested.

Community singing led by Walt Drevdahl and Harold Cockram was indulged in before the start of the dinner and also during the serving. Dave Livingstone at the piano and Walt Drevdahl with a harmonica kept things going at a lively pace throughout, and added greatly to the entertainment of the youngsters.

Before departing each of the group was presented with a present by Dave Yalomstein.

Triple Action ends coughs FAST

Home from school with a bad cough

—Back in school the next day

"Will I ever forget the fright I had when Jane came home from school coughing, coughing—one cough right after the other. I put her to bed immediately and gave her a teaspoonful of Smith Brothers Cough Syrup every hour. "That night my little Jane slept peacefully. In the morning she smiled again—well as ever. I will be grateful all my life to Smith Brothers Cough Syrup.."—Mrs. A. Robeson.

Smith Brothers Triple Action Cough Syrup works so efficiently because 1. It soothes. 2. Is mildly laxative. 3. Clears air passages. Children like the flavor.

NEW PLATES MOVE SLOWLY

Drivers Urged to Act to Avoid Last Minute Rush

Attention of owners of motor vehicles is called to the short time remaining for the securing of 1930 license plates, and every driver is urged to give immediate attention to the matter.

Applications are not coming in as they should at the Gladstone State Savings bank, official distributing headquarters for Gladstone and vicinity, and unless immediate application is made in the majority of cases, there will be a last minute rush that is going to result in inconvenience for bank employees and drivers as well, and possibly delay.

The bank staff is unusually busy with its own work at the end of the year, and a rush on license plates, will mean more than double work.

Last year a large number of people put off securing plates, with the result that drivers stood in line at the bank, wasting valuable time, while bank employees worked overtime in serving them and in taking care of their own work.

To avoid this, and to make matters easier for themselves as well as for the bank, drivers are urged to cooperate in making applications for their licenses at once.

All motor vehicles must be licensed by the first of the year, according to state law, and there will be strict enforcement of this regulation.

BENEFIT DANCE ON SATURDAY

Parent-Teacher Party One of Big Events of Holiday Season

Plans have been completed for the holiday dancing party which will be given Saturday evening at Wasa hall by the Parent-Teacher association of Gladstone.

The party is for the benefit of the fund to maintain the ice rink at the Parent-eacher playground during the winter.

Tickets for the dance, both adult and student are on sale at Dehlin's drug store, and are selling fast.

The student tickets obtained in advance are being sold at a special student rate. At the door, however, the student will be a regular price.

Plans for the party have been in progress for several weeks and the affair promises to be one of the most enjoyable of the holiday season.

The Michigan Nite Owls are playing the dance program.

The party will be chaperoned by members of the association.

OBSERVANCE OF CHRISTMAS DRAWS MANY

Christmas at the First Lutheran church was observed with capacity audiences present at both the morning and evening sessions.

Special music was given by Miss Hattie Elquist and a choir of twenty voices.

An account of the program Christmas night was given yesterday by Rev. Carl S. Ohman, pastor, as follows:

"At the evening session the Sunday School gave a well received Christmas program. The little preachers did their task well and to fullest satisfaction. After the program, which was in charge of Mr. William Oak, the Superintendent of the Sunday school, bags of nuts, candies, and fruit were distributed to the pupils and also to some of the smaller children present in the audience.

"Much credit for the splendid program is due to Theodora Holm, chairman of the program committee, who has had charge of the practice ably assisted by Marie Bredahl. We extend our heartfelt appreciation to Mr. Oak for the splendid work he is doing in this important branch of our work, and also to our young ladies named above for their untiring efforts in making the program wrth the while to us all.

"We are also greatly indebted to the Buckeye Dept. Store for a donation of candy to the Sunday school.

"To all, who participated in the liberal offering given at the morning session, the pastor wishes to extend a hearty thanks.

"At the New Year's Watch, December 31, the Luther League will have charge of the program and other arrangements. Announcement of this later."

Martin Van Donsel returned last night to Two Rivers, Wis., after spending Christmas at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Van Donsel.

Confirmed Reunion—This evening at seven o'clock a reunion of Confirmands will be held in the parlors of the Bethany Lutheran church of this city. This is an annual event in the holiday program of this church, an event looked forward to with a great deal of interest by the young folks of the church. Reservation cards received indicate that this year's reunion will be attended by a larger number of confirmands than at any previous function of this kind. Attendance is limited to young folks instructed and confirmed by the present pastor of the church, Or. C. Albert Lund.

The pastor serves as chairman ex officio of all committees and during the brief business session held in connection with the reunion. Dr. H. A. Johnson will be master of ceremonies at this evening's reunion. The main feature on the program will be an address by Dr. Peter Peterson of Chicago. Dr. Peterson is one of the outstanding leaders within the Lutheran church of America. He has served as a member during several years and as president recently of the National Lutheran Council, an organization that serves as a representative or as a "clearing house" for most of the Lutheran bodies in this country, having its main office in New York City. During a number of years he has served as president of the Illinois conference of the Augustana Synod, a position that he is still occupying and to which Augustana Synod, a position that he is still occupying and to which the major part of his time must be given. He will speak this evening on the subject "Our confidence in God, and our service to the Kingdom."

Other numbers on the program will be musical selections by an orchestra, a violin solo by Mr. Roy Pearson and two vocal selections by Miss Linnea Lund.

Mrs. John Carlson will be in charge of catering, assisted by a number of other ladies of the church. The church parlors have been beautifully decorated for the occasion.

New Plumbing Code Into Effect Jan. 1

Escanaba plumbers have been advised by the department of health that Michigan's new plumbing code, altered slightly in accordance with suggestions made at a public hearing in Lansing last week, will go into effect January 1.

Each of the suggested changes has been considered and accepted or rejected by the examining board for plumbers and the advisory council on plumbing, meeting jointly. Most of the alterations are of a minor character. Among the more important is a change in the minimum diameter for water pipe in residences. Originally set at three-quarters of an inch, the minimum was reduced to five-eighths of an inch, in accorddance with the views expressed by plumbing inspectors during the hearing. Special authority for the use of copper tubing was inserted.

Copies of the code will be printed and distributed as rapidly as possible it is announced. While January 1 is the date for the new regulations to become effective, the code actually will become operative when the copies have been given general distribution.

Health department authorities expressed satisfaction with the attitude toward the code displayed by plumbers, inspectors and supply men during the hearing. The criticisms were comparatively few and of a minor character.

Eli LaFountaine, 31, Former Resident of Wilson, Passes Away

Eli LaFountaine, 31, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas LaFountaine, of Iron River, and employed as meter reader and salesman for the Iron Range Light & Power company, died at 10 o'clock Monday night in an Iron Mountain hospital. Death was attributed to a ruptured appendix.

Mr. LaFountaine was engaged in reading meters Friday afternoon at Gaastra when he was suddenly stricken. He was hurried to Iron River by employes of the power company and on Saturday was taken to Iron Mountain. There his condition was pronounced critical and he constantly sank until his death Monday evening. The body was returned to Iron River.

Mr. LaFountaine was born in Wilson and spent much of his time in Iron Mountain and Iron River. He married Miss Beatrice Galipeau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Galipeau of Iron River, to whom a daughter, Jeanette, was born.

Three sisters, Florence and Irene LaFountaine, of Iron River, and Mrs. Celeste Steneski, of Gaastra, and seven brothers, Albert, Edward, Earl, Carl, Leo and Raymond, of Iron River and Patrick of Chicago, survive. Patrick will arrive to attend the funeral services.

Funeral services will be held at St. Anges' church at Iron River this morning at 9 o'clock with Rev. Fr. James Lenhart as celebrant at the requiem high mass. Burial will be in Resthaven cemetery.

Christmas Enjoyed At County's Farm

Inmates of the Delta county farm enjoyed a chicken dinner Christmas Day served by Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Gauthier and the employes. The 65 men and women who are making their home there were happy throughout the day. They received a few gifts and members of R. C. Hathaway Chapter No. 49, Order of Eastern Star, sent a case of oranges.

The Major Utilities installed a radio for the day and during the dinner a splendid radio program was heard and enjoyed by all the inmates.

The Daughters of Isabella sent a beautiful picture to Archie King who has been confined to his bed for the past 28 years. The picture is about 12 by 16 inches and has been hung up by Mr. King's bed.

Mr. and Mrs. Gauthier wish to thank the public for their donations and their help to bring cheer to the people in their care.

Infirmary Folks Well Entertained

The Presbyterian Young People of Munising went out to the county infirmary last Sunday afternoon to entertain the inmates with carol singing and selections by the brass quartet. There was also a solo by Clarence Lamlay accompanied by Mrs. Broughall. The program was in charge of the pastor, Rev. H. T. Broughall.

Before the party left, each of the forty inmates were presented with candy and oranges as favors from the Presbyterian Sunday school.

On Christmas eve, another party from the Presbyterian Christian Endeavor and Sunday school, in charge of the pastor, went to Melstrand where they sang carols and distributed bags of candy, apples and cookies to fifty children. Several Christmas baskets were distributed to the poorer families.

Three Pay Penalty Over the Holidays

Three cases of drunk and disorderly complaints were reported here over the holidays. A complaint was made by Officers Levy against Ed Wannamaker whom he found drunk and disorderly in public. He plead guilty and was fined one dollar and costs and was discharged by Judge Tracey.

A complaint was also made against Charles Trottier by Officer Engman. He was arraigned before Justice Tracey on a charge of drunk and disorderly and was fined $10 and costs or ten days in jail. He couldn't furnish the money so he was place in the county jail.

The third person arraigned on the charge was Henry Douchy, arrested by Officer Levy. He plead guilty and was placed in the county jail when he could not pay an alternate ten dollars fine.

BURGLARY AT RAPID RIVER

George Fuhriman Grocery Store Plundered By Thieves

About a half of the merchandise in the George Fuhriman store on Highway 41, north of Rapid River, was taken by thieves, who entered the building by breaking the front window sometime late Wednesday night or early yesterday morning. The loss by the burglary is about two hundred dollars, which is not covered by insurance.

The sheriff's department was left without a clue as to who committed the crime, and is offering a reward of twenty-five dollars to anyone offering any information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the guilty parties. All information offered will be kept in strict confidence, Sheriff Elmer Swanson said.

Mr. Fuhriman locked the store about 9 o'clock Wednesday night. He and his family live about two hundred yards in back of the roadside gasoline service station and store. The robbery was not known until he came to open his place 7 o'clock yesterday morning.

Apparently, the thieves had backed up a large truck, and loaded on the loot.

Included in the list of stolen articles were the following items: 100 pounds of sugar, one case of peaches, one case of salmon, 10 cartons of cigarettes, 5 boxes of cigars, two 25-pound sacks of sugar, two 50-pound sacks of flour, one barrel of salt pork, one carton of gloves, 8 boxes of candy, 25 pounds of Maxwell House coffee, one-half jar of pickles, two dozen oranges; 10 cans Libby's potted meat, 5 cans mustard, 8 cans molasses, one case of pork and beans, 10 cases tomatoes, one-half case Page's milk, two tubs butter, one dozen pencils and one case pickled pig's feet.

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, Dec. 26 (AP)—Holiday cheer appeared to have revived the bull party as trading was resumed in the stock market today. Shares prices were given the most decisive boost of the past fortnight. Trading, however, was but moderately accelerated. Only 2,576,740 shares were transferred.

The early transactions were small and somewhat hesitant, but disclosed that there had been no accumulation of tax selling orders over the holiday. Shorts hurried to cover their commitments, as professional speculators for the rise quickly took advantage of the situation to send prices higher, concentrating their efforts in some of the swift moving utilities.

Credit continued to tighten, in keeping with the normal year end tendencies. Call money touched 6 per cent, the highest rate since mid-November, after renewing at 5½. Banks called some $40,000,000 in loans. The flow of funds normally turns in the direction of New York after Christmas, but this is offset by "window dressing" by banks and corporations which withdrew funds to make large cash balances appear in their annual statements.

Reduction of Loans

The weekly brokerage loan compilation disclosed a further reduction of $58,000,000, leaving a total of $3,328,000,000, the lowest since the first week of October, 1927. The minimum figure since publication of the compilation was begun four years ago was $2,403,000,000 in May, 1926, and the maximum, $6,804,000,000 on October 2, last.

The federal reserve condition statements showed moderate increases in rediscounting and purchases of bills, evidently in an effort to stabilize conditions over the year end. The weekly gold movement statement showed that more than $16,000,000 was sent to France late last week, and that $11,000,000 in the metal had been earmarked for foreign account.

Business and trade reports indicated a further slackening of activity in keeping with year end tendencies. November railway net operating income reports disclosed declines from the like month of last year, with a few notable exceptions, including Missouri Pacific, Missouri Kansas Texas and New Haven.

"Automotive Industries" estimated that freight car requirements for the motor industry during the next quarter will show a jump of 33 per cent from the current quarter, and a reduction of 7 per cent from the like period of the previous year. President Everitt of Montgomery Ward & Co. predicted that the first half of next year would not come up to the more optimistic expectations, but looked for a gradual revival of activity throughout the year.

Cotton was a feature of the commodity markets, closing 40 to 85 cents a bale higher, in buying in response to reports of a better cotton goods situation. Wheat moved up nearly a cent a bushel in response to unfavorable weather reports.

Foreign exchanges were steady to firm, with the French franc mounting still higher, the cable rate establishing another 1929 peak of 3.94 5-16 cents.

Charlotte Pastor Using Old Depot

Charlotte—(AP)—Rev. Arthur A. Bryan, pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist church at Eaton Rapids, near here, believes in faith, but by his works is he best known to his congregation.

His church was destroyed by fire recently and the congregation had not the funds to rebuild. But Rev. Mr. Bryan promptly set to work clearing away the ruins, at the same time, seeking some way by which the structure might be replaced.

The way was found through consolidation of the New York Central and Michigan Central depots in Eaton Rapids and abandonment of the New York Central depot. A part of the old depot will be placed on the site of the old church and used for a place of worship, while the remainder will be converted into a parsonage.

The replacement building will be set upon a stone foundation laid largely by the pastor's hands.

New York, Dec. 26 (AP)—The bond market drifted idly in the doldrums of the holiday today. The session was one of the dullest since last summer, although volume slightly exceeded that of Tuesday. Price changes were highly irregular, but the tendency was downward in most groups. However, United States governments and first grade rails held firm and really weak spots in the remainder of the list were few.

Investment demand for bonds was small and such buying as did appear was selective.

Heaviness of numerous low priced industrials reflected further tax selling, but this was offset to some extent by speculative purchases of issues in which this factor was not an influence.

The utility group was mixed, with telephone company bonds showing the best support. Sluggishness marked the course of the convertibles.

European government obligations held up well, but Latin-Americans were heavy.

Captured Burglar; Boys Get $15 Each

Grand Rapids—(AP)—Seven boys will receive $15 each for their part in the capture of Steve Wabich, house burglar, now serving a seven and one half year minimum sentence through their efforts.

Originally, the city commission had decided to award $100 each to three boys who participated in the actual capture. Then it was learned that four other boys had previously given aid and revision of the awards was believed best.

New York, Dec. 26 (AP)—Operations of the United States Steel corporation this week were reported today to be running considerably ahead of most of the independent operators. Although the holiday shut-down has affected the output, steel corporation's ingot production is estimated at about 50 per cent of rated capacity. Estimates for the entire industry placed the production at from 35 to 40 per cent.

The Gulf Oil Corp. has stopped all field operations in Columbia carried on by its subsidiary, the South American Gulf Oil Co., because of what Gulf feels to be impossible burdens imposed by Colombian legislation, it was reported today.

Directors of the Puget Sound Power and Light Co., a subsidiary of the Engineers Public Service Co., have approved a construction budget of more than $12,000,000.

The Cuban Dominican Sugar Corp. has called a special meeting of stockholders for January 20, to act on a proposal to reduce the total aomunt of no par capital stock to an amount equivalent to $35 a share, the effect of which would be to realize $5,713,275 for capital surplus reserves. A part of this amount would be used to wipe out the deficit of $928,555 now shown on the balance sheet and set up a substantial capital surplus.

Net profits of the Florsheim Shoe Co. for the fiscal year ending October 31, amounted to $2,622,453, equal to $5.92 a share, compared with $2,444,481, or $5.25 a share for the previous year.

Gold movement at the port of New York during the period December 19 to 25, inclusive, was featured by an increase of $11,000,000 in the amount of gold ear-marked for foreign account. Exports during that time totaled $16,487,000, of which $16,386,000 went to France, $49,000 to Mexico, and $52,000 to Germany. Imports totaled $314,000, consisting of $196,000 from Argentina, and $118,000 chiefly from other Latin-American countries.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Dec. 26—Swayed by reports that the United States department of agriculture is backing up slashes in Argentine official crop estimates, wheat scored new advances late today. Earlier the market here had been depressed by unexpected downturns in Buenos Aires quotations and by at least temporary dearth of fresh export demand for wheat from North America. Toward the last, however, bidding at the Gulf of Mexico indicated pretty fair European inquiry notwithstanding that trans-Atlantic markets were still inactive because of holidays.

Chicago closing quotations on wheat were irregular, varying from ¼c decline to 7-8c advance compared with Tuesday's finish. Corn closed unchanged to 3-8c down, oats 1-8c off to ¼c up, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 15 at 17 cents.

Corn and oats trading was mainly of a holiday character with predictions current that a good sized movement of corn will deevlop whenever the weather permits.

Provisions averaged lower, influenced by late downturns in the value of hogs.

CURB TRADING VOLUME LIGHT

BY STANLEY W. PRENOSIL,
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, Dec. 26 (AP)—Bullish sentiment was more pronounced in today's Curb market, but trading continued relatively light in volume. The apparent completion of tax selling, except in isolated specialties; the recent inability of "bear" traders to dislodge any large volume of stock and the prospect of a good reinvestment demand around the turn of the year all helped to create a more cheerful feeling in speculative circles.

Standard Power & Light was the spectacular feature of the public utility group, soaring nearly 30 points on the announcement of a capital readjustment plan, and then losing nearly a third of its gain. Northern States Power A jumped 11 points and Commonwealth Edison fell 7½ on a few sales. Electric Bond & Share was in brisk demand all day, closing with a net gain of 4¼ points at 79 7-8. American & Foreign Power Warrants advanced 4 points and Cities Service improved fractionally.

Wide swings took place in a few high priced specialties.

Oils were quiet but Gulf of Pennsylvania advanced 2 points and Imperial 1¼, despite the increase in crude oil output last week.

Slight improvement was shown by most of the investment trust, trading and holding corporation issues.

Bout Tonight May Pick Rival for Jack Sharkey

JOHNNY RISKO IS DANGEROUS

Griffith Aspiring Opponent at Madison Square Garden

New York, Dec. 26 (AP)—The ugly duckling of the prize ring, rubbery Johnny Risko, has it in his power again to break the hopes and spirit of another young aspirant for heavyweight honors. The bounding one from Cleveland, a constant menace to every battler who rears his head above the crowd, will provide the test of fire and leather tomorrow night for Gerald Ambrose Griffith in an important ten round tilt at Madison Square Garden. The winner will be among those present when the Garden nominates a rival for Jack Sharkey in the second annual duel of the southland at Miami, Fla., Feb. 27.

The plump baker boy already has enaged Griffith once, losing to him on a foul in seven rounds earlier this season. With any other fighter than Risko that would indicate that Gerald Ambrose, from the moment he was christened, had something of an edge.

Long On Upsets

Risko, however, is the master of the prize ring for reversals. The late Tex Rickard, in a moment of exasperation named him "The Spoiler" and named him well. His hobby has always seemed to be the trimming of logical heavyweight contenders after "blowing" decisions to very ordinary athletes.

In the course of various elimination tournaments, Risko, defeated Jack Delaney, Paulino Uzcudun, George Godfrey, and finally Jack Sharkey and would have faced Gene Tunney in the heavyweight king's last stand but for losing a hair-line decision to Tom Heeney in Detroit in 1927. Yet Risko has been beaten by Romero Rojah, Sully Montgomery, and was technically knocked out by Chuck Wiggins. Max Schmeling also stopped him here last year.

Underdog Again

Griffith, a rushing, swinging socker with a host of backers and believers, has only one bad mark on his record. Jimmy Braddock, the light heavyweight contender, caught him charging in one night and laid him low with a right smash to the head. Since then Tuffy graduated to the heavyweight ranks and whipped Paulino among others.

Desnite Risko's record he will enter the ring in his favorite role as the underdog. He has never been beaten, never except when favored in the betting. Johnny will have a weight advantage of about ten pounds, with Griffith scaling about 184.

Illness, Injuries, Claim Coach and Four All-Star Men

San Francisco, Dec. 26 (AP)—Four gridders and a coach were on the disabled list of the East and West all-star elevens who meet here New Year's Day in the annual Shrine benefit contest as both teams took like workouts today.

Dick Hanley, Northwestern mentor, and assistant coach with Andy Kerr of Colgate of the eastern squad, lay ill in bed here with a heavy cold, while two of his players, Tommy Dowler of Colgate and Bill Calderwood of Northwestern, are hobbing around with leg injuries.

The western camp numbered Benny Lom, California halfback, and Tom Churchill, Oklahoma end on its cripple list, both suffering from strained tendons incurred in a workout yesterday.

COACHES HAVE ONLY 4 DAYS

Mixed Gridsters Make Ready for Benefit Game in Dallas

Dallas, Texas, Dec. 26 (AP)—The task of whipping an assorted lot of football stars into two compact fighting units began in earnest on two practice fields here today. Only four days of actual practice remain in which the southwest and midwest players can be drilled for their benefit game New Year's Day.

Uniforms were issued in both camps and the players assorted and catalogued by the rival coaches. Coach Ray Morrison of Southern Methodist entrusted with building a team that will uphold the southwest's football prestige, gathered his boys around him out at Ownby stadium. Jimmy Phelan, former Purdue mentor, had his Huskies at Fairpark stadium.

Except to pass the ball around and get limbered up after several weeks of inactivity, the visiting stars did little today. Hard work will start tomorrow, when two practice sessions are scheduled. Most of the players are in top condition, so it will be possible to start perfecting team work at once.

New Style Nose? Not for W. I. Sims

Atlanta (AP)—There is an old proverb about absence and what it does to the heart which seems to apply to noses—W. I. Sims' nose, anyway.

Sims' nose was demolished in the course of an argument and while surgeons were doing what they could with the relics they suggested he might like something fancy or even modernistic in the way of a new schnozzle.

Mr. Sims was not impressed. He had lived with his nose for 62 years and, in a way and when he thought about it, had grown fond of the old thing.

"You just give me the old model, I like it," he told the medicos. And so they did.

Pittsburgh Team, Pasadena Bound, Stops in St. Louis

St. Louis, Dec. 26 (AP)—The Pittsburgh University football team, bound for Pasadena, Calif., to meet the University of Southern California New Year's day, resumed its westward journey tonight after a five hour layover in St. Louis during which the entire squad of 33 players went through light signal practice and otherwise limbered up.

The practice session was held on Francis field at Washington University where the players were taken after being greeted this afternoon at Union station by a delegation of Pittsburgh alumni and representatives of the Chamber of Commerce.

Weather Cuts Workouts

They went from here to Kansas City and planned to make stops at Dallas, Texas; El Paso, Texas; and Tuscon, Ariz., for practice work.

"My boys are in good shape but have had very little chance to practice against Southern California plays," said Coach John R. Sutherland. "The weather conditions at Pittsburgh have made it practically impossible for us to do out door work. Keeping fit has been our main task." The players appear confident.

DOPES OUT ATTACK

Los Angeles, Dec. 26 (AP)—The Trojans settled into the final grind of preparation today on Bovard Field, University of Southern California campus, for the football game with the University of Pittsburgh in the Pasadena Rose Bowl on News Year's day.

Coach Howard Jones said, after scrimmage between the first string and the Spartans, he would have a well balanced attack prepared for the Panthers. "Race Horse" Russell Saunders, playing his last game for the Trojans, Jones said, probably will start at quarterback, with Gaius Shaver, good punter, at fullback and Harry Edelson and Ernie Pinckert at the halves.

This combination, decided upon late in the season, has been consider the most powerful ground gaining quartet under the Trojan banner.

Cuts Down Squad

"If Saunders turns in one of his best games, I will be satisfied," Jones said. 'We will have our big guns ready and they will be turned loose at the first opportunity against the unbeaten Pitt eleven."

In addition to Shaver, Jones has Jim Musick, sophomore line plunger, Joss Hill, one of the fleetest ball carriers on the coast, and Don Moses, a veteran who has been afflicted with injuries at various times during his career, ready for relief duty at fullback. Marshall Duffield, Saunders' alternate, also is in good condition as is Margar Apsit, Edelson's relief.

Until today, Jones has laid major emphasis upon line play in an effort to strengthen the forward wall to a point where it may withstand the rushes of the Panthers. In addition known plays of the visitors were disclosed in detail to the Trojans at a long series of dummy scrimmages.

Saturday Jones plans to cut his squad to 35 men and move to a Pasadena hotel for workouts at the Rose bowl.

111 ENTRANTS PLAY TENNIS

Family Talent Shows Up In Junior Indoor Tournament

BY TED VOSBURGH
Ass'd Press Sports Writer

New York, Dec. 26 (AP)—Younger brothers of two well-known American tennis stars set the pace today as the national junior indoor tennis championship tournament with a record list of 111 entrants got under way at the Eeventh Regiment Armory.

Both William Jacobs of Baltimore, City college, and Sidney Seligson, of New York university, seeded first and second respectively, reached the third round without much exertion, but four other members of the seeded sixteen were eliminated in the very first round and a fifth was forced to default.

Like Brother

Jacbs, playing the rushing, volleying the style of tennis that marks the play of his big brother, Eddie Jacobs, an established star at the University of Pittsburgh, smothered Emanual Klauser of James Madison high school, New York, 6-0, 6-0, after drawing a first round bye.

Seligson won by default from Harold Weiner of the City college of New York, then out-drove John Talbot, New York youngster, to win easily at 6-2, 6-2.

Like Jacobs, young Seligson showed the effects of his elder brothers tutelage. He used the same hard-driving tactics as those which carries Julius Seligson of Lehigh to the national inter-collegiate championship and a "first ten" ranking in 1928.

Champion Ill

Richard Hebard, national outdoor boys champion of last year, was expected to give Jacobs and Seligson a hard run for the title but injured an arm in a fall on the ice near his home in White Plains, N. J., and was compelled to default.

Richard Murphy of Utica, N. Y., and Harvard university, present champion, was unable to enter because of illness.

Upsets were many during the solid ten hours of play and four of the foremost contenders not only were beaten in the first round, but suffered the additional indignity of losing in straight sets.

21 TWIRLERS RATE PERFECT

Earl Clark, Boston, Leads With 12 Put-outs, 1 Assist

BY BRIAN BELL
Ass'd Press Sports Writer

New York, Dec. 26 (AP)—National League fielding averages made public today suggest that it does not always profit a baseball player to lead the league. Two of the athletes who showed the way at their respective positions in 1929 probably will not be regulars in 1930.

Early Sheely, Pittsburgh, topped the first basemen with an average of .996, but he is slow of foot and Gus Suhr, promoted from San Francisco, may get the Pirate call next year. Andy High, St. Louis, led the third basemen with .9672, but Frankie Frisch is expected to move from second to third for the Cardinals in the spring. High won by a whisker from Arthur Whitney of the Phillies whose average was .9671.

Cubs Catcher Best

Hughie Critz, the Reds' Spark Plug, was the leading second baseman with an average of .974 and Travis Jackson of the Giants was at the head of the shortstops, showing a mark of .969. The veteran Rabbit Maranville, Boston Braves, was second.

Ethan Allen, Cincinnati, gave the Reds another place by leading the outfielders with an average of .988.

Mike Gonzales of the Cubs had the best average for the catchers with .992. The Cuban veteran, however, played in only 60 games. The leader for the receivers participating in more than 100 games was the late Walter Lerian of the Phillies, whose last average was .986. Lerian died in October as the result of an auto accident.

Dazzy Vance at Top

Twenty-one pitchers had perfect fielding averages, but Dazzy Vance, Brooklyn, led in total chances with 62, divided into 13 putouts and 49 assists.

Two fielding records were bettered during the season and another tied. Earl Clark, Boston, set a new record for putouts and chances accepted by an outfielder May 10 when he registered 12 putouts and one assist in center field. The former record for putouts was 11 by Max Carey, Pittsburgh, July 25, 1921, and for chances accepted 11, held by seven National League outfielders.

Horace Ford, Cincinnati, had 11 putouts at shortstop September 18, tieing the mark set by William Fuller, New York, August 20, 1895.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT.

One of New York's most colorful sections, known as "Little Hungary," supplies the locale for "Sreet Girl," Betty Compson's first all-talking and singing Radio Picture, which comes to the Delft today.

Miss Compson is seen as an impoverised Hungarian violinist "adopted" by four boys, who are members of a band. Through the manoeuvers of the girl, the little orchestra is given a trial in a Hungarian safe, to which comes a European prince on a sight-seeing tour of New York's night clubs.

The attention paid by this prince to "Freddie" leads to their gaining a reputation which wins for them their own night club. It also complicates the love story in which John Harron plays opposite the lovely blonde actress.

Ivan Lebedeff, young Russian nobleman who came to Hollywood following the revolution, is cast as the prince. Jack Oakie, Ned Sparks and Joseph Cawthorn, for years a favorite on the New York musical comedy stage, carry the generous portions of comedy in the picture, while Guy Buccola and Eddie Kane appear in supporting roles.

AT THE STRAND.

The sparkling golf comedy called "Green Grass Widows," showing today at the Strand, is from an original story by Wellyn Totman, one of the youngest screen writers, who has constructed a smooth, veracious yarn about a golf champion who goes broke on Wall Street and hies himself off to a prize tournament to recoup his fortunes.

The champion's entrance apparently blasts the hopes of the local champion, who is desperately in need of the $5,000 prize in order to finish his college course and win the girl of his dreams. The surprise finish is said to lift "Green Grass Widows" far above the usual comedy type, and furnish some real thrills even to those who haven't fallen victim to the insidious little golf bug.

She Awakens During "Wake"

During a "wake" over the "corpse" of an aged woman at Mullahoran, Irish Free State, recently, she suddenly sat up in bed. Many mourners fled in terror. The woman had been ill for a long time, and apparently died in the usual way. Neighbors and friends from all the mountainous district gathered for the "wake." She had been in a cataleptic sleep, and lived for two days after her awakening.

Wolverines Open Conference Year With Minneapolis

Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 26 (AP)—University of Michigan basketball players started intensive work here today for the first conference basketball game one week from next Monday night when Michigan invades Minneapolis to open the season in the Minnesota court. Roy Hudson was the only man failing to appear although Joe Jennett appeared at the court too late to dress.

The squad went through a long practice on plays, Coach George Veenker instructing the guards to allow the offense to have the opportunity to try out basket shooting eyes. The squad which worked the longest together was made up of Chapman and Orwig at guards; Truskowski at center and Kanitz and Weiss at forwards.

SPEND MORNING SEEING SIGHTS

Biff Jones Gives Westpointers Some Light Practice

Stanford University, Cal., Dec. 26 (AP)—Geared to high pitch of efficiency and waiting only the opening whistle, the West Point football eleven, here to battle the Stanford University team Saturday, marked time today with a single light practice in the afternoon.

The cadet gridders spent the morning with a sight-seeing tour of San Francisco that took them through Chinatown, Golden Gate park and other points of interest in the Bay city. Coach Lawrence "Biff" Jones and Captain Christian "Red" Cagle then attended a Stanford-Army luncheon in the city, returning to the campus to rejoin the squad for a brief workout.

Tonight at the San Francisco Presidio, the officers, many of them former West Pointers, and enlisted men were to hold a rally to celebrate the appearance of the cadets in a western game and to invoke good fortune for the invaders.

OREGON WANTS BIFF?

Eugene, Ore., Dec. 26 (AP)—Rumors were current here today that Captain Biff Jones, West Point football coach, may be approached in connection with the vacant coaching position at the University of Oregon to succeed Captain John J. McEwen, resigned.

Jack W. Benefil, graduate manager; Virgil Earl, director of athletcs, and Del Stanard, representing the alumni of the athletic council, have gone to Palo Alto to see the Army-Stanford game Saturday. There are many reports on the campus that the trip was not entirely one of pleasure.

Jones is amdittedly looking for a coaching post since his contract with Army expires this season and the Army rule permits but a three-year tenacy. Oregon is reported willing to pay Coach Jones $8,000 annually, which is understood to be considerably more than his present salary.

President Arnold Bennett Hall said today he knows nothing of a possible interview with Jones by university officials.

Tom Stoddard, president of the student body, was on vacation today and could not be reached.

PUCKSTER LOANED

Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 26 (AP)—Led Grovsenor, substitute left wing of the Ottawo National Hockey League team, has been loaned to the London Tanthers in the International circuit, the Ottawa management announced today.

Thorpe Bay, England, has protested to the British government against air joyriding over the town.

Of 124 child workers recently found on canal boats in England 76 were under 12 years of age.

DETROIT WON'T STAR SHIRES

Silly to Think of Him in Main Go, Is Michigan Ruling

Detroit, Dec. 26 (AP)—When and if Charles Arthur Shires fights in this city it will be in a four-round preliminary and not in the main event of any card.

This is the attitude of the Michigan boxing commission, made known today after Benny Ray, matchmaker for the West Side Athletic club, had announced that the self-styled "Great" Shires would head a card on New Year's Day.

"It is silly to think of him as a main event fighter," said Henry Komrofsky, member of the commission, discussing the first base, two-fight pugilist. "The public is entitled to some protection. Shires hasn't yet established himself as a main event boxer and until he does he will have to be content with preliminaries if he fights in Detroit at all."

Ray thereupon announced that he would get up another main event and put Shires where the commission thinks he belongs. Art's opponent probably will be one Battling Criss of Rockwood, Mich., whose professional ring experience equals that of Shires—two fights.

Under Ray's final plans, a couple of local featherweights with fair records will meet in the main bout. They are Marty Stone and Donald McLeod, neither of whom has fought much away from home arenas.

Davis Cup Match "Out" for Tilden

Paris, Dec. 26 (AP)—Big Bill Tilden, in the midst of intense training for the French covered courts championships opening here tomorrow, paused long enough today to outline his tennis plans for coming campaigns and reiterate that his days of Davis Cup play are over.

"I will not play Davis Cup tennis any more but I do intend to compete in the French hardcourt and the Wimbledon championships," Tilden said.

Tilden served as captain of the American forces in last year's unsuccessful attempt to lift the Davis Cup from the French defenders, and was named for the 1930 squad.

Following the covered courts tourney here, Tilden will leave for the Riviera where he plans to compete at Monte Carlo, Cannes and Nice. He is entered in the singles competition here and will pair with Charles Kingsley, of England, in the doubles.

Michigan Coach Designs Footwear For His Cagers

East Lansing, Mich., (AP)—The modern basketball coach, it seems, should be an equipment specialist if he wants to pull in the old victories.

Ben Van Alstyne, one-time all-eastern forward while at Colgate and now basketball coach at Michigan State, is designing the shoes his players will wear. The specifications call for the greatest possible comfort for the fast moving players.

THEO. BOVINE PASSES AWAY

Death Calls Pioneer Who Came to City 71 Years Ago

Theodore Frank Bovine, 89, a resident of the city for the past 71 years died at his home on Bay Shore Road Christmas Day at 9:35 a. m. following an illness of several months due to the disabilities of old age.

Mr. Bovine was widely known among the older residents of this city and had many friends who will recall the early days in this city when he was employed as a conductor for the C. & N. W. railway company.

Theodore Frank Bovine was born at St. Pierre, P. Q., Canada, January 10, 1840. He came to this city when a young man of 18 and has lived here continuously since that time. There were very few people in the city when he came here and he saw the city grow from a small hamlet to its present size. He was employed as a railroad conductor until about thirty years ago when he was laid off and worked at several other kinds of works since that time until he retired from active work a few years ago.

He was married to Miss Olivine Bezier at St. Joseph church 54 years ago by the late Father Charles Langner of Negaunee who came to this city on missions. Mrs. Bovine died suddenly two years ago.

He is survived by the following children, Miss Emma Bovine of this city, Thomas Bovine, Menominee, Mrs. Edward Leclair of Detroit, Mrs. E. J. Cheverette, Chicago, 10 grandchildren and 4 great grandchildren. Funeral arrangements have not been completed, pending word from a daughter in Detroit, but the services will be held in St. Joseph's church with burial in St. Anne's cemetery.

He was a member of the Holy Name society.

Unique Pictures of Deer Taken by Beatrice Johnson

A set of pictures of two large deer, who died in a terrific fight in which they engaged on the Holmes farm in Waucedah township on the Foster City road, makes an interesting exhibit at the Carl O. Johnson hardware store, Ludington street.

The photographs were taken with a small camera by Miss Beatrice Johnson of Iron Mountain, then enlarged and tinted. The title of the pictures is "Fighting Deer Locked in Death," a name which has been copyrighted by Miss Johnson.

The bucks, one weighing 275 pounds and the other about 250, were found dead on the Holmes farm during the deer hunting season. The ground gave evidence of their hard battle, during which their antlers became locked together so tightly that the angered animals could not separate. When exhaustion finally ended their efforts to release themselves, they lay on the ground and eventually starved to death. Upon hearing of the incident, Miss Johnson went to the place, and took the set of photographs.

Miss Johnson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl O. Johnson of this city, conducts the Portrait Art Shoppe in Iron Mountain.

WINTER CLUB WORK GROWING

4-H Membership in Delta County Is Largest in History

With 348 boys and girls enrolled in 35 clubs, the membership of the Four-H clubs in Delta county this winter is the largest in the history of the county. Virtually every rural community in the county is represented by an active club.

There are 13 handicraft clubs with 144 members, 21 sewing clubs with 189 members, and one hot lunch group with 15 members. All the Four-H organizations have their winter work well under way. The crowning event of the program will be the roundup in the spring when exhibits of the work done by the boys and girls will be shown.

The leaders of the handicraft clubs are as follows: Nahma, Ann Fleming; South Bark River, Raymond Raymond; Ford River Mills, Julia Maigetter; Pine River, Joseph Gucky; Soo Hill-Groos, Gerald Brown and Alfred Groos; Cornell, John Towers; Perkins, James McNamara; Alton, Hazel Froberg; South school of Stonington, Thomas Powers; Central school of Stonington, Minnie Erickson; Garden, Frank Tebo; Danforth, Rose Kasten; and Newhall, Elsie Severinsen.

Christmas Mailing Rush Is All Over

Normal conditions prevailed at the Escanaba postoffice yesterday afternoon after the busy Christmas mail rush.

The postoffice employees worked until a late hour on Tuesday night to deliver all the mail that had arrived on that date. Due to storms delaying trains and the public's tardiness in mailing, however, about a hundred and fifty sacks of mail arrived on Christmas Day. All this mail had been delivered by yesterday noon.

The volume of Christmas mail was equal to last year's figure, according to Anton Embs, superintendent of mails.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)
